

How to find bride in Russia

You are free to distribute this book provided the content remains unchanged and the links are not changed.

* * *

(c)2008 MyBestBride.com

Russian wife - is another life.

* * *

The general view of Western men:
"Russian girls are kinder, more caring and thrifty. They are good wives." Women in the West, according to men's view, are materialist too much, demanding and spoiled. To some extent this is true. Russian women look better, dress elegance and neat (we have never suspected!) seem more kind and homy. Men in the West do not look to the welfare of the bride, the most important thing for them - external attractiveness and sexuality.

We can not say that there are not beautiful women in the West. There are, and quite a lot. But what distinguishes Russian women is a desire to be loved. Our Russian women are femininity. The sea of warmth and charm is in them. Western women are pretty and smiling, quite friendly, but they are cold. Growing up in prosperous society, they are too independent and self-sufficiency. They strongly aware of their rights and, above all, they are not obliged to tolerate the inconvenience.

Western woman knows the price of them and their attractiveness. In the West, men still care for women, not vice versa! The men (many of them were previously married), said with one accord: Russian girls are good wives. They were hampered to explain what was the difference between a Russian wife and the wife from the West - both are cooking for the family, maintain the order in the house, raise children, care of the husband - but agreed in one:

"Russian wife - is another life, more happy and calm." According to them, with Russian wife, the marriage "works out".

No Life Without Russian Wife !

We grow up in a situation where everything depends on everyone. Russian people, and especially a woman, has a surprising ability to adapt. Our people feel like a fish in water, in an environment that is absolutely unbearable for any normal Westerners. In family life, this ability is resulted as a limitless tolerance. Russian woman did not even notice any infringement of her interests, where a normal woman from the West already shut the door with a bang after a hot quarrel. The point is not that women are spoiled or ill-humored - Western woman does not have a mental mobility, which allows you to survive in this situation without losing the integrity of your ego.

This is a key point, where the differences in approach to family life are from. If there is a disagreement on any matter, the Western woman will always act according to her own understanding of the proper way out of this situation. When she is confident in her rightness, she has not thought not to take action against the husband. Even if she goes to a compromise, she would feel deeply unhappy and will not let her husband forget for a moment, what she has sacrificed. For Russian woman a compromise is a way of life. If a violence is inevitable then to relax and enjoy. Russian woman is natural in her adoption of behavior and actions of her husband. That does not mean that she does not try to influence on them. She just does not try them reject. She is always with her husband.

That's all the secret. We are not better. We are not kinder. We just are more tolerant. Our personal scale of assessment of the values has more points, and where the western thermometer maxed out there the ours continues to work successfully. Actually this is a great thing - the ability to accept the reality and people as they are. Another objectively existing option, which is crucial for foreigners is the place of the family in a woman's life. Our Russian woman naturally puts the family above career.

Dating and Matchmaking agencies receive many letters from women whose career is quite successful, even on Western standards. These successful and professional women consider themselves deprived with family and children. They are happy to exchange the high professional status for the position of Western housewife.

For Western women the housewives rank is somewhere on the level of our Janitor. She can feel happy, only reaching the certain professional peaks. In principle, there is the aim to fight for - high professional status ensures a high life level. In Russia, even having a relatively high post, a woman does not receive good money, which provides the freedom and independence. With our Russian salaries - you doing any career, still will not earn money to have a decent standard of living - own country house, car and a good ability to manage them, the opportunity to travel in first class and the most important thing that money brings- the possibility not to worry anymore.

How to find bride in Russia

* * *

- I Register to the site, try to put several good photos of you. You can do it here or here .
- II Be active- show yourself as a confident and energetic man as you certainly are. Write letters. The best number is 40-50. It will allow you to see who you are comfortable with, who will be interested in you.
- III Communicate with several Russian women you like. See if they answer your question, if you are comfortable with them. You won't know what to say with some of them, but you will instantly find some topics with others.
- IV Do not make the communication by letter long. Russian ladies mostly do not like it. They are afraid that it will lead to no result but they are seriously minded and want good result. Ask for a telephone number and phone to her .
- V If she has children ask her about them. Tell her about your children. Ask important points about family relationship, about children upbringing.
- VI If you really like her after telephone calls and letters, if you wait for the time to phone - do not waste time, do not make the time destroy something that began to grow between you- Come to Russia and meet her personally. Live in the hotel , not in her place, if you fall in love with each other, she will make you acquainted with her parents, children.
- VII Try to arrange the next meeting as soon as possible or make arrangements to marry her.

* * *

Tips & Tricks

* * *

1. Orient yourself with your wishes.

Try to clearly imagine, what you want from your relations with the woman. List priorities and decide what are the principal criteria of your choice, and in which you are ready to yield and to accept compromise. Is it the social position? Mind? Energy? Sexual performance? Age and physical appearance? Maybe there can be something else? In what measure should these qualities must be present in your "candidate"?

Now try to more critically relate to your wishes and to think, are such women generally out there? Are not the qualities, which you want to see in the woman, incompatible in principle?

2. Think, what a woman wants from you.

Imagine the portrait "your" woman. Where and how does she live, what is occupied with, what are her interests? But the main thing - what place in life she leaves for a man and what demands she presents to him. Are you ready to match these requirements? Women, just as you do, elect to have the right to select. What you are prepared to propose to her in exchange for what you want to receive? Some men assume that stability and money is sufficient in order to build stable relations. It goes without saying; there are women, who are guided by financial motives in all perspectives. But they sooner or later show their user's motives, and they will unlikely be interesting to you. If you thought the wishes of the imaginary chosen-one unreal - return to the first point, reduce the requirements and imagine a woman with a less rigid criteria. with less strict requirements.

3. Create a virtual image for yourself.

On the site we are associated with the virtual characters, created by our imagination from the photographs, forms and letters. Imagine the man, who will be most attractive for the type of woman selected by you. What is this image? Sensual and direct? Energetic and provocative? Serious and accurate? Intellectual and romantic? Creating your image, make it one-piece. Photographs and answers should not contradict each other, but support a whole image.

Variety at a distance more frequently disorients and alerts, than attracts. Its better that she realises your other merits during the personal encounter. Only do not overdo it with the creation of your "portrait". In spite of artistic enhancements, it must reflect the real and significant side of your "I". Otherwise, with the encounter, mutual disappointment will ensnare you both.

4. Display activity and initiative.

There are thousands of forms on the site - to wait when you will be noticed can take years. And its not a given fact that these will be women with whom you would desire to be introduced.

Furthermore, in some countries it is not accepted for women to display initiative first, and she can simply decide not to give you the signals of attention. Examine the catalogues more frequently; they are constantly supplemented. And if a woman seems attractive to you, wink to her, send a virtual postcard or write a letter. The more women you will honour with attention, the greater the chances to find your "half". Answer the letters and communications faster.

5. Do not retreat before failures.

How many women you did meet at work, on street, in the transport? And, until now, you did not meet that one and only? You did encounter banality and rudeness? And did not leave any hope for a happy encounter? Why do many after the first unsuccessful attempt at virtual meeting consider this way hopeless? Search for one's "half" is a serious goal-oriented work. The Internet is not a lottery and not a fantasy country where the desires are fulfilled by themselves, but the possibility to expand the circle of search to the level of World scale. And if the search is not successful? Weeks, months pass; women do not write and do not answer? Or they do write, but not those you wished for and not about that which you wanted to discuss? It means, you directed your charm not to those you intended to attract, or selected the wrong image. Read these recommendations from the beginning and change your profile. The main thing is - not to retreat before setbacks!

* * *

What are you waiting for ??? Go and get her. You can do it !

Don't miss free gift on mybestbride.com